ARABAH EL MADFUNAH
BALIANA UPPER EGYPT
Dec 26th 1932.

Dear Mother.

I had such a rush last week that I had to miss a mail, when I got back from the Temple I had to take Sandic's account of all the marketing for Christmas & then get Joey & rush off to Baliana to meet Amice, then hurried wash & dinner & you know how impossible it is to do anything when she has a lot to talk about. The next day we had a guest who departed yesterday, Xmas day. & two new guests got off the train he departed by & are staying until tomorrow - so life has been one hectic rush. Our present guests are Mr Last the secretary of the E.E.S in Glanvilles place & Professor Adcock Prof of History from Cambridge, so they have to be duly shown the temple etc & also impressed with our great industry so this year Xmas gaieties have been somewhat curtailed as we have had to give all our attention to them, we wish they had come at any other time. They are very pleasant but have a very learned air. However they can neither of them speak any Arabic so we have one advantage.

We had a fantasia for Xmas night. It was very like the ones I have described at length other years. Our Soudanis helped to liven up the party by letting off their guns with loud bangs & every one seemed to enjoy it very much. I gave Sheikh Sabit a special invitation

 & he came with the other teacher both in their best robes. They were accommodated with chairs, as also were the Soudani's, The rest of the company squatted on the sand, & had little fires in pots to warm themselves by, we were wrapped up in coats & rugs. & the performers kept themselves warm by banging each other at intervals with lighted palm branches

Our dog has hurt his foot & it feels hard & swollen, so he is being poulticed, he is as good as gold & does not make a bit of fuss when the scalding hot bread goes on, we tie him up in one of my old stockings & he looks so pathetic sitting with his paw held up.

Amice was delighted with her needle work case & cant believe I made it, Little Un was also surprised by his
