

Off Corsica.

ON BOARD

[ ㊦ ]
N.Y.K. LINES.S. HAKOZAKI MARU
Jan 14th 1928.

Off Corsica . 14 1

ON BOARD

S.S. HAKOZAKI MARU

Jan 14th 1928.

Dear Mother &amp; Father.

I went ashore at Naples yesterday with a lady & gentleman & their son, we shared a guide & drove round to all the principal places of interest including the Cathedral, modern outside, but part of the interior dates back to pagan times, we saw the old fortress of the time of the Inquisition, the Kings<sup>sic</sup> Palace, the Opera, Colleges Monastys<sup>sic</sup> etc, & finally went up in the funicular railway to see the view from the top, said to be the best view in all Europe, it certainly was very wonderful.

Dear Mother &amp; Father.

I went ashore at Naples yesterday with a lady & gentleman & their son, we shared a guide & drove round to all the principal places of interest including the Cathedral, modern outside, but part of the interior dates back to pagan times, we saw the old fortress of the time of the Inquisition, the Kings<sup>sic</sup> Palace, the Opera, Colleges Monastys<sup>sic</sup> etc, & finally went up in the funicular railway to see the view from the top, said to be the best view in all Europe, it certainly was very wonderful.

2

The bay is very beautiful & of course I saw Vesuvius, it was pouring out thick grey smoke which hung all about it like a cloud. not half as thrilling as Stromboli. There was no red light, & even at night only a pale reflection in the sky. but still it is something to have seen it. I wish there had been time to go to Pompeii but the boat only waited 3 hours so I think I did quite a lot.

We are just getting a little of the swell of the Gulf of Lyons.

Most of the people are getting off at Marseilles. There is a dear old lady returning from Japan (where she has been teaching in a mission school) who thinks it dreadful of me to think of going all across the Bay of Biscay. & travelling alone

The bay is very beautiful & of course I saw Vesuvius, it was pouring out thick grey smoke which hung all about it like a cloud, not half as thrilling as Stromboli, there was no red light, & even at night only a pale reflection in the sky. but still it is something to have seen it. I wish there had been time to go to Pompeii but the boat only waited 3 hours so I think I did quite a lot.

We are just getting a little of the swell of the Gulf of Lyons.

Most of the people are getting off at Marseilles. There is a dear old lady returning from Japan (where she has been teaching in a mission school) who thinks it dreadful of me to think of going all across the Bay of Biscay, & travelling alone too! she wants me to join her & her husband & go across France. she sits at my table & I believe she thinks it will be improper for me to take my meals alone with another male passenger. (a most inoffensive man). what she would think if I told her of my adventures in the desert I can not imagine.

14 3

Corsica is very beautiful. her hills are snow covered, (perhaps one ought to call them mountains). I did not see any vendettas flying about. There are a lot of islands off Sardinia they remind me of the Channel Islands only even more rocky. I hope I shall see the coast line of S France & Spain, according to the chart we keep close in. of course when we get round to Portugal I shall feel I am going over old ground, (or rather water)

too! she wants me to join her & her husband & go across France. she sits at my table & I believe she thinks it will be improper for me to take my meals alone with another male passenger. (a most inoffensive man). what she would think if I told her of my adventures in the desert I can not imagine.

Corsica is very beautiful, her hills are snow covered, (perhaps one ought to call them mountains). I did not see any vendettas flying about.

There are a lot of islands off Sardinia they remind me of the Channel Islands only even more rocky.

I hope I shall see the coast line of S France & Spain, according to the chart we keep close in, of course when we get round to Portugal I shall feel I am going over old ground, (or rather water)

4
 I am glad I shall have one more glance
 at Africa. They say if you have drunk of the waters of the Nile you will want to return one day. it is perfectly true -
 I have drunk deeply. I do not think any other country could have the same
 fascination

I expect this is the last letter
 I shall write before I reach home
 & I cannot say anything more definite than that I may get home late on Jan 22 or sometime Jan 23 -
 it all depends on the weather.

Love to you both
 and all friends -

Your affectionate daughter
 Myrtle.

I am glad I shall have one more glance
 at Africa. They say if you have drunk
 of the waters of the Nile you will want to return one day — it is perfectly true —
 I have drunk deeply. I do not think any other country could have the same
 fascination

I expect this is the last letter
 I shall write before I reach home
 & I can not say any thing more definite
 than that I may get home late
 on Jan 22 or sometime Jan 23:
 it all depends on the weather.

Love to you both
 and all friends.

Your affectionate
 daughter Myrtle.