Dear Mother.

I have answered your page of questions as best I can from memory. but as you know. dates wont stick in my memory & I have none of my old note books here

The Coptic linen can be soaked in tepid water & laid on glass & wrize smoothed out while wet & then, when dry another glass on top & fixed together with passe-partout.

If you look in a box of various ornaments in my chest of drawers. top right hand. you may find some beads & various charms but do not send ~~the~~ the enamel cloak clasp. it is quite incorrect as an example of Egyptian design, I believe there are some mon pots & roman lamps some where in the loft. I last saw them in one of the pigeon holes under the book shelves.

I picked up some more scraps of linen today as we went to the temple & am now soaking it to try to get it to lay out flat, & if successful, will send it next letter, I think there is a bit of mummy cloth in one of the pots on the shelf over the South window - ~~He~~ ^{Mr Pinton} might like the table runner also as an example of ^{modern} hand work by decendants of the Ancient Egyptians. I cannot think of anything more at present

We had D^r Abbas & his wife & his wife's two sisters to tea today. They had an unfortunate adventure coming here. The driver of their car was not used to the desert & tried to go too fast over the rough ground & gave them a bad bumping & two of the ladies arrived with bloody noses & we had to get water to bathe them with. They were very brave & made light of their troubles when we got their faces washed, & Nannie ~~was~~ ^{was} rinsed out their veils while we were at tea, so they were ready when they departed. Amice drove them back in Joey so there were no further catastrophes

D^r Abbas was very delighted with our cream machine so Amice & I would like to give him one as a present from both of us. would rather go to Selfridges when he is in town & order 1 Empire Cream Machine Small Size. price 12/6 - (or 12/9) & ask them to send two extra rubber washers. I have just remembered we saw the same in Rodgers & Gowlett in Watford so perhaps it would be simpler to order it from there, ask them to pack it very carefully (so that it can be opened by the customs without them having to smash the box to open it) & send it to me here, if you will pay for it. Amice & I will settle up with you when ~~you~~^{we} return, I would also like some sweet pea seeds for D^r Abbas he asked if we had any from our garden here but our plants have got very small & I am afraid would not be much good. He brought us a great basket full of mandarines from his garden. they were the nicest we have

was eaten, wasn't it kind of him.

We are going to have tea with them next Monday,
we always enjoy our visit there.

Amice is enclosing a note for Father, she is getting in a great state of fuss about her quartette, various people want copies - I said I was sure he would be pleased to advise her about printing etc.

Love from us both to you both
also to Pat.

Your affectionate daughter Myrtle.

P.S. Send the sweet Peas letter post & pack them so they won't rattle. I enclose a label with Sample Post in Arabic so they will travel by it when they arrive here.

(a little cotton wool with the seeds would be a good idea -)
