Dear Mother.

I had such a nice long letter from you today. I am glad you have heard from Floss. you might let me have her address. If I've time some day I'll send her a letter from here. Thanks so much for the expanding flowers. They will be very much appreciated here. We are also pleased with the cuttings of the Amarna dig.

We saw Ahmad Ibrahim wearing the scarf I bought at Barkers. he looked simply splendid in it. he had wound it round his head with one end with the heavy black fringe that I'd made hanging over one shoulder. his robe was of a very deep blue cloth. The effect with his brown skin & fine features was very beautiful.

Mahomed Abu Rahman came into the temple this morning to ask when I'd like to ride his camel again. I said "after Ramadan." (the fast will be over in six days.) I was wearing the scarf that Sardic had made with Miss Collins' wool as the temple was rather draughty, & Mahomet was overcome with admiration of it.

Our guests departed this morning. Mrs Davis returned to Luxor & the other two to the Brunton's camp, we gave each a bunch of flowers out of the garden.

Sheikh Abdu Wahid's finger is better, now we have a lady with a nasty gash on her first finger, she did it peeling onions, & left it uncovered for several days, it was all swollen & horrid when she showed it to us, but after 3 days treatment it shows signs of healing. Her son came with her this evening & asked Amice if she would make the judge give him back his wife - exactly what the judge is detaining the lady for we cant make out, he was very sad when she explained that she couldnt do anything in the matter, I wonder what they will want next.

Later When we returned to the house this evening we found the Coptic priest had come to pay us a visit, so I got out my Coptic grammar to show him, he was quite excited about it. He read some of it with me, & corrected my pronunciation, & even pointed out one or two mistakes in the grammar, he is going to show me a book the priests learn by. He was very surprised to hear it is taught in England.

Nannie has given me a sweet smelling herb from the garden to enclose in my letter. I hope it will have retained its sweet scent by the time it gets to England.

Lots of love to you both your affectionate daughter
