Dear Mother

This morning we paid a visit of consolation to the Omdah of Beni Monsua he has lost his brother, & it is the custom for all who knew him to visit & offer condolence, because of his recent bereavement he was unable to visit us as is usual on our arrival, so hearing the reason, we took the first opportunity of paying our respects & saying the correct things in proper Arabic manner. It was a very solemn occasion & we felt very sorry for the poor Omdah, it was very difficult to make suitable conversation but we gather from Sandic's report to Nanny that we did the correct thing. The rest of the day I have been busy writing Xmas letters & now our precious day to ourselves is nearly over & we hav'nt

Dear Mother

This morning we paid a visit of consolation to the Omdah of Beni Monsua<r> he has lost his brother, & it is the custom for all who knew him to visit & offer condolence, because of his recent bereavement^{sic} he was unable to visit us as is usual on our arrival, so hearing the reason, we took the first opportunity of paying our respects & saying the correct things in proper Arabic manner. It was a very solemn occasion & we felt very sorry for the poor Omdah, it was very difficult to make suitable conversation but we gather from Sandic's report to Nanny that we did the correct thing. The rest of the day I have been busy writing Xmas letters & now our precious day to ourselves is nearly over & we hav'nt^{sic} had time to do half the things we planned. which included a good overhaul of Joey's innards,

Amice goes to Luxor on Wednesday to make enlargements at Chicago House, she expects to be there a week or ten days but will return for Xmas in any case, Our people are all getting very excited about the feast, & are preparing the usual entertainment for the evening, we may have Mr & Mrs Davis for the Xmas Holiday, they asked us to spend it with them in Luxor. but we do so love our Xmas here & it would be too bad to disappoint all our people who look forward all the year to the fantasia. so we are suggesting the Davises come to us instead, it is possible we may also have D^r Junker. so our house may be full

 Our carpenter has been busy turning this years packing cases into doors & other useful house fittings, he is a marvel at neat patch wood.

I hope you will both have a very Happy Xmas. also Mr & Mrs Childs & Maudie.

will you also wish Pat a Happy Xmas from me, I know she sees all your letters & wont mind my including her in with the family

Lots of love

from your affectionate Myrtle.
