

Arabah. Jan 12th 1933.

Dear Mother.

This is a season of colds. poor Amice has had to go to Cairo for treatment, her nose got completely bunged up & she felt pressure on her ear drums every time she tried to blow it, we tried everything from nazal^{sic} douches burnt sugar & hot formentations^{sic} but it seemed to get worse so she decided to go to her doctor in Cairo & stay at the Anglo American Hospital for treatment. we had an awful job getting her off to Baliana by 10 o'clock. I had just under 20 minutes to drive from here to the station & through the market day crowd on the road. it was a night mare, I hardly had my hand off the horn for a minute

206 4
Arabah. Jan 12th 1933.

Dear Mother.

This is a season of colds. poor Amice has had to go to Cairo for treatment, her nose got completely bunged up & she felt pressure on her ear drums every time she tried to blow it, we tried everything from nazal douches burnt sugar & hot formentations but it seemed to get worse so she decided to go to her doctor in Cairo & stay at the Anglo American Hospital for treatment. we had an awful job getting her off to Baliana by 10 o'clock. I had just under 20 minutes to drive from here to the station & through the market day crowd on the road. it was a night mare, I hardly had my hand off the horn for a minute

2

& I took one bridge at such a pace that the Soudani in the back seat was bumped on the roof. however we caught the train & I got back here absolutely wacked. I've had the worst cold I can remember since I bought the opossum rug home. I've got over the worst of it but it has left me absurdly weak & shakey & I still wash out about six hankeys a day. but I can at least blow my nose & I trumpet all over the house all day. I am not risking any draughts in the temple yet, but have had my painting materials brought back & am filling in the background of my next picture & preparing underpainting when I know what the colours are. this will save a lot of time later.

& I took one bridge at such a pace that the Soudani in the back seat was bumped on the roof. however we caught the train & I got back here absolutely wacked^{sic}. I've had the worst cold I can remember since I bought the opossum^{sic} rug home I've got over the worst of it but it has left me absurdly weak & shakey^{sic} & I still wash out about six hankeys^{sic} a day. but I can at least blow my nose & I trumpet all over the house all day. I am not risking any draughts in the temple yet, but have had my painting materiels^{sic} brought back & am filling in the background of my next picture & preparing underpainting where I know what the colours are. this will save a lot of time later.

3

We have a guest for a couple of nights. it is rather an inconvenient time for him to come, but as he is a member of the E.E. Soc we could hardly put him off. he is a very nice old boy & quite content to potter round on his own & can speak a little Arabic so I just tell one of the men to show him round.

& Little Un helps look after him, & as I still have my breakfast in bed I only have to do the polite at dinner, & after that Nannie comes in & hauls me off to bed. You see I am being very much pampered & fussed up. Tell Father I was delighted with his letter & will write to him next time.

Love to you both
your affectionate daughter
Myrtle.

P.S. Vapex is a god send out here. I am glad I brought a large bottle.

We have a guest for a couple of nights. it is rather an inconvenient time for him to come, but as he is a member of the E.E. Soc we could hardly put him off. he is a very nice old boy & quite content to potter round on his own & can speak a little Arabic so I just tell one of the men to show him round. & Little Un helps look after him, & as I still have my breakfast in bed I only have to do the polite at dinner, & after that Nannie comes in & hauls^{sic} me off to bed. You see I am being very much pampered & fussed up. Tell Father I was delighted with his letter & will write to him next time

Love to you both
your affectionate daughter
Myrtle.

P.S. Vapex is a god send out here. I am glad I brought a large bottle.