

Nov 29th 1929.
Arabah-el Madfunah.

Dear Mother

Fancy the customs fussing about the enclosure in your letter, I expect you will be surprised to see it is only a little child's^{sic} cap. I was advised not to send the skein of wool unless specially required, as the postage would be more than the cost of the wool & might never reach you, so shall save all such things to pack in my trunk. I could^{sic}'nt resist sending the little cap I thought it would amuse you. (The cap cost 7½.^d the postage 1/-)

All your enclosures have arrived safely & I have had no trouble with them, we are using the pencil protectors. I showed Ahmud the samples of wool, & did my best to explain how it was spun, I said the cloth was used for English clothes for cold weather. he examined them all carefully then went off & fetched a hank of wool spun to a similar thickness of thread, & told me that the Arabs only used such wool for blankets. I think the colours pleased him very much

To-day we had tea with our little police officer

Nov 29th 1929. 1
Arabah-el Madfunah.

43

Dear Mother

Fancy the customs fussing about the enclosure in your letter, I expect you will be surprised to see it is only a little child's cap. I was advised not to send the skein of wool unless specially required, as the postage would be more than the cost of the wool & might never reach you, so shall save all such things to pack in my trunk. I could^{sic}'nt resist sending the little cap I thought it would amuse you. (The cap cost 7½.^d the postage 1/-)

All your enclosures have arrived safely & I have had no trouble with them, we are using the pencil protectors. I showed Ahmud the samples of wool, & did my best to explain how it was spun, I said the cloth was used for English clothes for cold weather. he examined them all carefully then went off & fetched a hank of wool spun to a similar thickness of thread, & told me that the Arabs only used such wool for blankets.

I think the colours pleased him very much
To-day we had tea with our little police officer

43

2

It was laid out in the garden among the banana trees. we had Cairo bread, jam & cream, biscuits & apples. it was all very nice, we talked village gossip about the omdah's & their various families & the gaffins etc

I wrote my first Egyptian cheque yesterday for Dr Brown, the mosquito bites cost me 50 piastres (10/6)

I am wearing your kasha coat early morning & evening, it looks so nice & is just the right warmth

We had the first batch of Cook's tourists in the Temple this morning, they were a mixed lot I expect we shall have them once a week now There does not seem to be as much news as usual to tell you in this letter

I like the pattern of your new ^{material} ~~dress~~ it will make a very smart dress.

I am sending you some more snaps, we developed & printed them here. I had taken some in the evening & didn't expect very good results, so it seemed hardly worth paying the high cost

it was laid out in the garden among the banana trees. we had Cairo bread, jam & cream, biscuits & apples. it was all very nice, we talked village gossip about the omdah's^{sic} & their various families^{sic} & the gaffins etc

I wrote my first Egyptian cheque yesterday for Dr Brown, the mosquito bites cost me 50 piastres (10/6)

I am wearing your kasha coat early morning & evening, it looks so nice & is just the right warmth

We had the first batch of Cook's tourists in the temple this morning, they were a mixed lot I expect we shall have them once a week now There does not seem to be as much news as usual to tell you in this letter

I like the pattern of your new ~~dress~~/^{material} it will make a very smart dress.

I am sending you some more snaps, we developed & printed them here. I had taken some in the evening & didn't^{sic} expect very good results, so it seemed hardly worth paying the high cost

43

of postage to send them up to Cairo

I am sorry you did not have any more news from M^r Laurie, I expect the poor man is fairly distracted I have had no letter from Buffles in answer to one I wrote the first week I was here, I wonder if she is all right, I will write to her again.

I shall soon have to start my Xmas letters We are expecting M^r Lucas to visit us next week he is the chemical expert who preserved all Tut's things, we met him at Gresham house I think he will be a very jolly guest, we want his advice about cleaning some of the painted reliefs in the Temple

Will you ask Father to get me a sheet of Flour Sand Paper & cut it into sizes convenient to enclose in letters, we use little scraps of it to keep a very sharp point to our pencils, I still have some to go on with so there is no hurry I should also like 4 yds of washing ribbon for shoulder straps, pale pink about this width you might send ~~2~~ 2 yards at a time which will make two pairs. I shall need them

of postage to send them up to Cairo

I am sorry you did not have any more news from M^r Laurie, I expect the poor man is fairly distracted I have had no letter from Buffles in answer to one I wrote the first week I was here, I wonder if she is all right, I will write to her again.

I shall soon have to start my Xmas letters We are expecting M^r Lucas to visit us next week he is the chemical expert who preserved all Tut's things, we met him at Gresham house I think he will be a very jolly guest, we want his advice about cleaning some of the painted reliefs in the temple

Will you ask Father to get me a sheet of Flour Sand Paper & cut it into sizes convenient to enclose in letters, we use little scraps of it to keep a very sharp point to our pencils, I still have some to go on with so there is no hurry I should also like 3/4 yds of washing ribbon for shoulder straps, pale pink about this width you might send ~~1 1/2~~ 2 yards at a time which will make two pairs. I shall need them for my vests later on, this is all I can think of at the present that I am likely to want.

43⁴

ps: IX-02

I hope to hear better news of Mr Childs, please thank Mrs Childs for her little note, I am glad you read them all my news, I expect they think I am living a funny life among very strange people.

Love to you & Father & Pat
your affectionate daughter
Myrtle

for my vests later on, this is all I can think of at present that I am likely to want.

I hope to hear better news of Mr Childs, please thank Mrs Childs for her little note, I am glad you read them all my news. I expect they think I am living a funny life among very strange people.

Love to you & Father & Pat
your affectionate daughter
Myrtle