

Original in LC (7) III
copy for G.I.

Lahun, Fayum, 16 March 1920.

... ~~xxxxxxx~~ While I was seeing you off, they found an XVIII coffin at Kahun, and began clearing it, Jefferis and Brunton. I finished it next day. There were 5 bodies, old woman, robust man, 2 girls and an infant, all in one coffin. The old lady had 3 fine green scarabs on her hand, and one girl had 4 more scarabs on necklaces, a necklace of silver flies and garnets, and a perfect toilet box 6 x 5 ins. with two sliding lids, with bone plates [   ] The man had a headrest and a curved stick. Altogether a good group of early XVIII. []

I am finishing the copying; and packed a box of stonework today.

23 March, 1920.

... Kahun is yielding little things of the unusual kind, and scraps of papyri. I have packed 9 boxes, all the difficult ones, and there are about 8 more to do here.

30 March.

We are getting many clay sealings from Kahun, but nothing else notable.

Original in LC (7) III
copy for G.I.

Lahun, Fayum, 16 March 1920.

... ~~xxxxxxx~~ While I was seeing you off, they found an XVIII coffin at Kahun, and began clearing it, Jefferis and Brunton. I finished it next day. There were 5 bodies, old woman, robust man, 2 girls and an infant, all in one coffin. The old lady had 3 fine green scarabs on her hand, and one girl had 4 more scarabs on necklaces, a necklace of silver flies and garnets, and a perfect toilet box 6 x 5 ins. with two sliding lids, with bone plates     The man had a headrest and a curved stick. Altogether a good group of early XVIII.

I am finishing the copying; and packed a box of stonework today.

23 March, 1920.... Kahun is yielding little things of the usual kind, and scraps of papyri. I have packed 9 boxes, all the difficult ones, and there are about 8 more to do here.

30 March. We are getting many clay sealings from Kahun, but nothing else notable.