Dear Mother.

I had a very nice time with Rex & Nancy in Cairo. it was much cooler there & I got all the bank business etc done quite comfortably. I had dinner one evening with Dr Junker. Otto is now able to walk without a stick & has only a slight limp, but the poor man is suffering from an attack of jaundice. I have never seen any one so yellow, & as he wears a greenish grey suit the effect is awful. He is much thinner too. The Dr has forbidden him to eat any meat so he feels half starved. Dr Junker says he will be able to employ him so he is not so despondent about his prospects & as he can do the work in Vienna he should be quite all right.

The voyage has been very uneventful. we were at Malta yesterday. I went ashore for a little walk. there were more formalities than last year. we had to show our passports before getting on the launch & on landing had to have them stamped by the Malta police. we were only there for 4 hours. so I climbed up to the top of the rock by the motor road & walked round the gardens.

then wandered about the little town of Valetta.
 Some of the streets are very steep & one goes down steps
 like in Clonmel. We are due at Marseilles tomorrow & stay there the whole day. worse luck. then we go to Gibraltar but I do not know how long we stay there.
 we arrive at Plymouth early Thursday 7th I shall probably disembark there, as I can be home a day earlier & save the awful crush in the customs at Tilbury, there is a train reaching Paddington 3. (or 3.30) so I could be home by tea time.

Lots of love to you both.

Your affectionate daughter

Myrtle.
