Jan 2/^{<1>} 1935

Dear Mother.

Happy New Year to you both. we are celebrating it by eating the turkey presented to us by Ahmed Ibrahim. & the post man is turning over a new leaf, for he arrived at the police station (where the local mail is collected) at 10-30 instead of between 12-30 & 1 'oclock^{sic}. consequently our mail was not ready for him & has to wait for the next day.

All the cala/<e>nde/rs have arrived safely. thank you very much for them. we can now find the correct date in every room in the house & there is an extra one for Sheikh Jed el Karim.

All the calendars have arrived safely. thank you very much for them. we can now find the correct date in every room in the house & there is an extra one for Sheikh Jed el Karim.

The sand paper is also in use & getting blacker daily. I have given a strip to every one & they all say how nice it is & did not know sand paper could be as fine as that.

The Observers are being well read now. Truda Clark likes to keep up with the news & also to do the cross-word puzzles.

Nannie had an exciting piece of news on New Years^{sic} Eve. Eva has a son. Nannie is pleased it is a boy, but is very doleful at the rate her responsibilities increase

The sparrows have been visiting me in the temple again.
They come as soon as they see me throwing the crumbs, & hop quite close to me when I am working

Sardic has been having trouble with his eyes, so Amice is taking him up to Cairo to see the eye specialist there, she took him some years ago & the specialist said there was a very slow growth forming (trcoma^{sic} {trachoma}) & it was best to leave until it reached a certain stage & then he could remove it. it may mean he will have to go into hospital for a week or two for the treatment.

Amice has several jobs to see to in Cairo & expects to return in a day or two. she is going to have that tooth of her's^{sic} restopped. the gutta percha has filled the breach^{sic} nobly - but she thinks its^{sic} wiser to have it seen to the first opportunity

I forgot to tell you that I blew bubbles for the children on Christmas Day with great success. at first some of them were frightened, but when they saw how easily they burst, they thought it great fun. there were too many children to all have paper. (about 45) so I am giving them to the older children when a suitable occasion arises.

I gave one to Mahomed Kheir. & he went off in great glee to show the Ombashi how to make balls with soap & water. Mahomed K. has now returned to headquarters I miss his cheery grin, his substitute - is an excellent man but quite ordinary -

Please wish every one a Happy New Year for me - Lots of love from your affectionate daughter - Myrtle
