April 23rd 1935

Dear Mother.

I cannot remember what I told you about my arrangements in my last letter, but now everything seems to be fixed up. I have booked my seat in the areoplane^{sic} to Palestine for May I. I had intended going April 29th but that turned out to be the Feast of Shem-el-nessim^{sic} {Sham el Nessim} & every thing was booked up, so as we have now a day or so to spare Amice & I have decided to pay a visit to Prof Oliver in his new house at Bouq-el.Arab. we leave here by Friday night train. take the areoplane^{sic} for Alexandria Saturday afternoon & return Tuesday, we are taking our bathing things & intend to just laze & bathe on the glorious sea shore there, we may borrow one of his tents & sleep on the sand there. wont it be fun.

I return to Cairo Tuesday afternoon, & leave for Palestine Wednesday morning. I have put my name down at Cooks for a passage on the Japanese boat leaving P.Said May 21. due London June 2.
 I shall not know if there is a vacant berth before about May 10th but I expect there will be as I am going 1st class.

I think the car insurance is due about May 11th would Father pay it for me, I will settle up with him when I return as I do not know what the amount will be. will he tell them the policy is to remain suspended until June 1st.

I think if I come to a London port I will get George to get the car ready & get the new licence from June 1st & come to meet me at the dock & you & Father could come ^{with him} to meet me on the boat, it would be a bit of a tight fit returning with all the luggage, but I expect we could manage. Of course there might be a bit of waiting about at the dock, but you could sit in the car while I was busy getting through the customs & I expect you'd find plenty to amuse you George could find out from Cooks what time the boat would be in & where she would unload.

My letters may be not quite as regular after this. I do not know what opportunities I shall have for writing after I leave here. my next letter may be from Palestine.

Love to you both

Your affectionate daughter Myrtle.
