

Arabah el Madfunah.
[probably 10 March 1932]

Dear Father.

Thank you for your letter, I wrote to the Tax Man as you suggested, & added that if my ^{former} letter had been mislaid, you could let him have a copy of it.

I told Mother about my first's days outing, for the second, I went to Beni Hamael to see the blacksmiths at work, it is a village about ten miles from here, of course I went on the camel, & Sardic on his ass, the Soudani guard had a donk, & so had the other men. Of course our arrival at Beni Hamael caused a lot of excitement, it was great fun seeing the blacksmiths at work, they had very funny sort of bellows made of skin in pairs, one for each hand. The anvils are just like ours, & three men hammer in sequence, they do the most splendid iron work, they were making great iron discs for some implement for field work & they put little patters in punch work on them for luck. I have asked them to make you a very fine chisel, & I explained

Dear Father.

Thank you for your letter, I wrote to the Tax Man as you suggested, & added that if my <former> letter had been mislaid^{sic}, you could let him have a copy of it.

I told Mother about my first's^{sic} days^{sic} outing, for the second, I went to Beni Hamael to see the blacksmiths at work, it is a village about ten miles from here, of course I went on the camel, & Sardic on his ass, the Soudani guard had a donk, & so had the other men. Of course our arrival at Beni Hamael caused a lot of excitement, it was great fun seeing the blacksmiths at work, they had very funny sort of bellows made of skin in pairs, one for each hand. The anvils are just like ours, & three men hammer in sequence, they do the most splendid iron work, they were making great iron discs for some implement for field work [] & they put little patters in punch work on them for luck. I have asked them to make you a very fine chisel, & I explained that it must be a very strong one as English wood is so very hard. they said, If Allah wills, it shall be a very strong one. The Omdah, hearing I was in the village sent to ask me to take coffee with him, so of course I went, & did my best to make polite conversation, it was fun. he & I sat on a divan in the centre of a large court yard, & the village elders were gathered in a circle at a discreet distance, I was invited to lunch, but made the usual excuse, & with much difficulty made my departure, I had my lunch in another orange garden after a lovely ride all along the banks of the Nile,

179²

Amice returned today. she has had a very enjoyable time in Cairo, staying with Lady Rowlatt. she called on Lady Lorainne^{sic} at the Residency & came away armed with an enormous box of chocolates, & we are both invited to go to see her when we go to Cairo.

I am having great difficulty in writing this letter as Amice is talking all the time that it must be a very strong one as English wood is so very hard. they said, If Allah wills, it shall be a very strong one. The Omdah, hearing I was in the village sent to ask me to take coffee with him, so of course I went, & did my best to make polite conversation, it was fun. he & I sat on a divan in the centre of a large court yard, & the village elders were gathered in a circle at a discreet distance, I was invited to lunch, but made the usual excuse, & with much difficulty made my departure, I had my lunch in another orange garden after a lovely ride all along the banks of the Nile,

Amice returned to-day. she has had a very enjoyable time in Cairo, staying with Lady Rowlatt. she called on Lady Lorainne^{sic} {Lorraine} at the Residency & came away armed with an enormous box of chocolates, & we are both invited to go to see her when we go to Cairo.

I am having great difficulty in writing this letter as Amice is talking all the time

179

I keep loosing the drift of what I am writing.
 I am so glad you are going to have a gardener man
 in regularly, I hope he is a nice one.

Amice joins me in lots of love

To you both.

Your affectionate
 daughter
 Myrtle.

& I keep loosing^{sic} the drift of what I am writing.

I am so glad you are going to have a gardener^{sic} man
 in regularly, I hope he is a nice one.

Amice joins me in lots of love
 to you both.

Your affectionate
 daughter Myrtle.