Dear Mother

In my last letter I told you I was going to pay a visit to the local village school. After lunch Nannie & I went off with Abdu Hakim as escort, Nannie enjoyed having a walk & was so pleased to see the beans growing & the palm trees & nabbok trees etc, it is quite a long way from our house to the cultivation for her, Abdu Hakim went on ahead to warn the school master of the great honour in store for him, & when we arrived he was at the door to welcome us. There were three classes. one for little boys one for middle sized boys & one for big boys. of course I had to look at their copy books etc & they were all very eager to show their best efforts, everything was very orderly & tidy, & as they had only about five minutes notice of my coming they had'nt much time to prepare for critical inspection I asked Sheikh Sarbit if it was possible for me to have a lesson that day after school hours

& he said it was "very possible," When we left the school we went to see Sardic's garden to see how the seeds had come up that Nannie had given him. Of course she didn't approve of the way they had come up, or been transplanted or anything. Nannie on a visit is never pleased with anything, but she enjoys it tremendously all the same.

I had such a good lesson that evening. The schoolmaster dictated a story & I did my best to write it down, then we did verbs & my head began to feel like Brer Rabbit when he got thrown into the bramble bush. I don't feel as if I have got properly sorted out yet, & there's probably worse muddles ahead of me to-morrow.

There was terrific excitement this morning, Nannie was nearly bitten by a huge scorpion, she was leaning over the garden wall & suddenly saw it just by her arm. she yelled for Sardic & he spiked it on a bit of wood & then squashed it. It was about five inches long, such a horrid looking thing. we hope there are not any more about.

Sylvia Tatton Brown & a girl friend of hers are coming on Monday to stay for a week, we may take two days of our holiday while they are here & go for a long excursion, & perhaps camp out. I may not get an opportunity to write my usual Tuesday letter, so I hope you will not be very disappointed if I have to miss next mail.
