

The Larches,
Westbury-on-Trym,
Nr. Bristol.

Sept 11/88

My darling -

The queer looking spot above is the island of Capri - from Naples.
It looks like a whale with a broken back - or a keel - or any other name you please. Round the corner to the right is the Blue Grotto, & the steep cliff in the middle is Tiberius's cliff, over which he had people thrown for his entertainment.

I have just been writing to Mrs Harworth, & have made her an elaborate Syrian sketch of a Syrian country house on the slopes of Lebanon. The original is a colored sketch, done at the Luncheon hall, in my Syrian sketch book. When you go to see her again ask her if she has any pen & ink of mine
